I'd love to have them earlier! I have something 2-5, can i get them at maybe 1:45? I'll come to your place. How's duker-when was the last time he threw up?

I told ezra to be with you. He wants to be with rylee. I'm not interfering. And i saw maia for half an hour yesterday. My attorney is aware too. Don't text me one on one. You're harrassing me, please stop.

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:33PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:46PM):

That's what he told me. He can choose when he's with you or not. But needs to make sure he is with you some of the time. I'm not telling him to not be with you. He wants to be with rylee. I want ezra to be with you, want to be with you. He just is choosing rylee today.

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:48PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:48PM):

You took him out of the time I had with him. He is supposed to be with me for a day. It's what the court mandated. This is not your world to control.

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:51PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:51PM):

I took him to church. Had plans to pick him up. You took him. He was in my possession.

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:51PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:52PM):

I'm not taking him. I'm not even with him. He's with rylee at church. He is choosing to be with her and not you. Stop lieing. Stop harrassing me. Just stop. Every single day you come at me with something ridiculous spin off story where I'm the enemy. I want the kids to see you. I know my rights. I know their rights. You don't even know what times you can see your kids. You're the one texting them to go to concerts when it's not your time, it's mine. And telling them not to worry about it. They tell me the things you tell them about me. I know my rights. And i follow the rules. You don't follow any rules and you have no right to harrass me like this

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:52PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:52PM):

He made it abundantly clear that you have beyond tarnished my name in my reputation so exhaustively that he doesn't anticipate any one of his friends parents ever letting them be around me. I just want to communicate this here in the app as that's an additional aspect of what you've done that I intend for you to be held accountable for.

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:52PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:52PM):

I'm not with him! Go get him at church! I'm at home. He's not with me. Stop lieing. Stop messaging me with lies. I'll see you at 6 to get the littles from you. That is it. Goodbye.

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:53PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:53PM):

I'm not harassing. I'm specifically stating that my son was in my possession, and you took him out of my possession.

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:53PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:53PM):

This is the process that we have to manage against and you're not allowed to just control everything

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:53PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:53PM):

Oh. Go ahead. I don't talk to any of his friends parents. All of his friends have never liked you. I even suggested that he bring friends with him this weekend. He said no. Stop John. Just stop.

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:54PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 12:57PM):

But it's not the truth. Go get him at church. It's his choice. HIS CHOICE. he's at church. Without me. Without you. Go get him.

I want the courts to see that John wantz is texting me outside of the app.

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:00PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:07PM):

In a harrassing manner.

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:12PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:14PM):

Jama - this correspondence is in response to you taking Ezra out of my possession. You've kept the big kids from me for two months and failed to operate by the courts orders in the first weekend. My communication has been strictly around this.

You're harassing me and greatly damaging our children through using lies to the court (which I'm now prepared to share with the court) to remove our children's father from their lives. Looking forward to walking the courts through your unwillingness to do what the court ordered you 'MUST' do.

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:14PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:14PM):

Ezra is not responding. What is your plan with Ezra?

Have you communicated to him you would get him and take him where he wants? Is he stranded?

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:15PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:15PM):

I've followed the courts orders. You have not at all. Just stop. And i too look forward to unpacking it all. So does my lawyer.

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:15PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:15PM):

I haven't I'm at home. He doesn't want to be with you, and he verbally told me he doesn't know how to say that to you. He's at church eating pizza with his youth team and girlfriend

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:22PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:22PM):

I'd suggest going and getting him at church. Even tho he doesn't want to be with you, if you think it's in your right for you to be the one to pick him up from church and take away his teen clause rights, do that. And once you pay for the ammicus lawyer, the kids can figure out with that person and the judge what they want. But go get him. I'll call him and let him know you are picking him and Rylee up and to answer his phone when you call or text. But you are outside of your rights to force them when they don't want to. It's their choice to make plans and for him to hang with who they want. He gave you an overnight and evening last night, morning this morning. And that's all the courts are requiring of him.

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:25PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:31PM):

I called him. Told him to answer your calls.

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:32PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:34PM):

Another key example of you explicitly controlling their communication with me. You've done the damage. I'll follow up with my attorneys at this point after what you've done this weekend.

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:45PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:45PM):

Ezra shared he is with Landon. He shared with me last night that due to what you've said about me to others that Landon's parents won't be comfortable with him around me.

There was numerous statements the court made stopping us from disparaging one another in our children's community.

This is the exact reason why. Ezra was fine with around his girlfriend. But with Landon involved, my access to my son is limited due to your disparaging of me within our Children's community.

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:45PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:46PM):

Nice try. Not at all. I'm HELPING you. He doesn't want to talk to you/is uncomfortable talking to you and not answering. So I'm trying to forge a way for you to see him. Nice nice nice try. And i too have been documenting all your moves and have let my attorneys know every step-every thing you've said. I am not going to let you dictate a narrative where I'm isolating our kids from you. Id LOVE it if you were normal and safe for me. For them. I hope that me setting boundaries and telling you that you are unhealthy for me creates some room for you to gain help and learn how to be a good person for your kids. I want them to love you. I want them to see you. I just don't think you are a good person for ME 100000% you are the worst husband i have ever imagined. But you need to be a good person for them and you need help John Wantz.

I look forward to it all. And i look forward to you gaining their love back someday through therapy and the help you need.

Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:47PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/1/2023 1:47PM):

Not at all. He was nervous for you to meet rylee. I told him to give it a shot. You are ignoring that most parents haven't ever liked you before our separation.

I'm done communicating with you today and have proof in writing of you talking poorly about me to our own children which you are not allowed to do and telling lies in our community about me. Please stop for the day. See you at 6 to collect the babies.

John Wantz on 10/1/2023 4:33PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/1/2023 6:05PM):

Yep! He hasn't had a fever at all.

Parent teacher conferences are tomorrow and she said she emailed you and she hadn't heard back from you.

I've been with grey basically all day and he's been fine. I'm wondering if he ate the chicken for lunch because it looked gross to me, could've given him a tummy ache. See you at 7.

See you at 7 to get the littles from you

I wish I could be watching Grey and Duke rather than them being in childcare that cost money. I'm here to help save money and invest in our children's hearts. Thanks!

Jama Wantz on 10/6/2023 6:22AM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/6/2023 7:50AM):

They're excited and are going with friends. I heard you need a sitter for Saturday night, i can always have them too, but haven't been asked. We're each doing our thing in our own possession time.

And money talk is off the table with me and you unless it's in court. I just got an email that you aren't even paying for my soberlink, when you are court ordered to. If that gets shut off, seems pretty terrible.

Regarding this weekend both kids have no fevers at all and haven't had one. I don't need to be notified if one of them has diarrhea or sleeps in a long car ride with you. Soft poop happens and doesn't mean the other parent is doing anything wrong. They are both being handed to you today healthy and happy. Have fun.

John Wantz on 10/6/2023 8:20AM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/6/2023 2:06PM):

Jama Wantz on 10/6/2023 2:10PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/6/2023 2:10PM):

I asked you if it was ok for ezra to go away for the weekend yesterday at 2pm and you approved. He would sleep over last night, get picked up at 9am today and back to your place Monday am for the day. You approved. So i had him pack and let you know. He had the lake plans for months and he said he texted you and asked you yesterday and you didn't get back to him so i asked. You said it was ok.

Regarding Ezra's work i suggested he only work on the weekends that i have him, actually. So you are painting me to be this person that's trying to block you but i actually am quite knowledgeable that the kids are busy and it's hard for them to be around for a large chunk of time in a day to go to your house and I'm trying to accomodate and make it better.

Regarding games they both have commitments-ezra is the ball boy and maia the cavalettes and this has been a thing they do and are committed to.

For basketball it has to be something that he did before as a family. He's never done it before. Otherwise you have to do it on your time and get my approval if it's in my time. You can sign him up for your time. I'll take him when it's my time if it works for us because I'm a good parent and a nice person. And i want good things for my kids.

I've checked with my lawyer on alllllll of this and this is her guidance. Same with how i had to check with you about a therapist for maia or switching duke to greys school so he could be with us every day and get speech too, and you said NO to both. I don't have to say yes to basketball. I'll take him on my time to basketball if it's not a stressful thing with you being there or anything weird doesn't happen. And it works for our schedule.

In order to prove your income, I'm going to have to involve the IRS so that we can make sure that all of our financial history is very above board and we're doing everything most appropriate.

The Cheney's told me they left the guns out for you and you never picked them up. Contact them for pick up again? They don't want your guns. Assuming you have a proper way to store them now since the kids are at your house every other weekend.

I don't pay booth rent anywhere, you know that's false information. I do my friends hair at their homes. They pay for the supplies and color and tip me-I'll happily turn over my income regarding that, there's one that pays me via zelle to the joint checking and the rest are Venmo. It amounts to really nothing, less than $1000 a month and you know it.

You also need to turn over any income for your business' that you don't claim, as well as bank accounts you have that don't have my name on them and any money you are not claiming in the courts. You have so far only turned in my credit card statements and our joint checking accounts-you have way more than that. And had me pull cash out of our joint account so that you could pay people with it in July and August with your accounts that I don't have access to.

Jama Wantz on 10/9/2023 11:55AM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/9/2023 1:12PM):

I'd like to formally remind you that while the kids are in your presence, you are not to speak poorly about me. It made Maia very uncomfortable and she said she told you repeatedly to stop and that "mom never talks like this about you to me." You have told the kids that I'm cheating on you-I have not AT ALL. As well as the pastor at church. And apparently showed the kids texts regarding my cheating. Having a bartender flirt with me is not cheating. I have never communicated with anyone via phone calls, texts or dating or apps. I 10000% work and take care of our kids and have never kissed, dated, anything with a man. You are well aware that men flirt with me and try to pick me up regularly. You speaking to our kids regarding this is breaking the rules the judge set forth. You also told them that I shoplift? And Grey came home telling me that you told him many times I am "making very poor decisions." He is 5.

The ONLY thing I've communicated to our children is that I do not want to live with you any more and that they get 2 homes, full of love and that you love them a lot. And that I love them a lot. I thought we agreed to that at an earlier stage?

I also have documentation from Landon's mom stating that her and I have never even discussed you. I'm sorry that Ezra maybe told you that/thinks that? But any boundaries that family sets or any other family sets is not because I'm speaking poorly about you. I'm assuming the kids communicate with their friends and it goes back to parents.

Clause 7, letter M states not to make disparaging remarks to the children regarding each other. I know you'd like to take the stance that I am speaking ill of you, but we really don't in this home. We actually do family time and pray for you and bear. If I am crying I try to do so outside or in my car and I do not tell the kids why.

To sit for hours speaking to our kids and showing them apparent texts you have between me and a man? Is gross. And false. I've never communicated via text or calls with a man. In person I have been told I'm beautiful and maybe some other comments that lasted a total of 2 minutes. My friends teasing me that a man is cute and to go for it-does not mean I have at all. When a bartender flirted with me I shook with nervousness. I am also not interested in a relationship with another man. I have given you my love and am very very sad at how you have treated me, treated the kids. Treated our vows and marriage. I am not interested in any other relationships.

Maia apparently was told by you that your lawyer has never seen a wife set such huge boundaries between a father and his children. Your son shared with me that he held a knife up to his neck because of the words you said to him. He didn't want to live with you. He didn't want to talk to you. And in tears said that you make him very very sad and that he knows I LOVE HIM. That you told him that you will never have to parent Duke and Grey the way you parent Ezra because he is lazy and complacent. You Apparently told a sad teenager that had already communicated that he had thoughts of suicide that?

Our daughter after you threw things and left the house in August-told me that she was crying because she was afraid that I would allow you back in the house and that in a year we would be in the same place, with you yelling at all of us often and nothing changing. That she didn't understand why I was married to you and stayed married to you. The day after you left she fell to the ground and burst into tears because she thought she heard your voice and was scared. I set boundaries because they wanted them. And they still want some boundaries with you. They beg me when they can talk to the amicus attorneys so they can share with them their concerns.

I beg of you to have some respect for their hearts and try to not talk about ME. But how you can forge ahead and build trust back up with them. They do love some parts of you. They do not love how you speak about me, to them. And you have crossed the judges orders.

Regarding the Cheney's and your guns-she has texted you again today for you to receive your guns. She said that they have a couple of times with no response from you and i can share that in court as well.

Jama Wantz on 10/9/2023 12:35PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/9/2023 1:15PM):

John Cheney said that he has messaged you many times and it comes back as blocked? So if you'd like your guns back-unblock him. We have screen shots of that as well with no response from you. And from Taylor reaching out to you as well.

I have a statement from Landon's mom that i have never spoken I'll of you, neither does she ask because it's my business. We have never spoken about you until i asked her for a statement, even. I'd like to just settle this all out of courts-it seems like unnecessary drama amd gossip, mainly on your part to be honest. If you'd like to go to court I'm totally ok with that tho and am ready and will only get more ready.

I've added up my hair income and reported it and will file as well with the IRS and turned in my paperwork regarding that. I'm working on alllllll the things, John. And re filing for the car loan without you as well. :)

I'm not bad mouthing you. I'm having conversations the kids want to have. You dissecting my conversations with them is not healthy.

The list of requirements I would have to settle out for court I don't anticipate you being interested in. I think it's best to expose the court to what you've done, your lies, the men you've engaged, your shoplifting, your racism, your problems with alcohol, your medications, your lies, and then we can see where that nets out.

You've chosen this process. I'm sure you'd love to settle out of court after pinning me down with lies. Stealing our money. Robbing me of our children. Trying to destroy my reputation. And the damage you've caused our children because of the way YOU handled this. Yes. We had a toxic gross marriage. But your manner in handling this has been extremely damaging to our children

Bringing transparency with the videos I've received of you shoplifting, audio of your repeated domestic violence, blatant racism in writing and being able to prove through your statements the lies you've put in front of the court will help people that need to make decisions about our children have context they need. Again I don't want to hurt you. I spent more than two months holding all this back, praying and hoping we could reconcile. You allowed your attorneys to take your lies and run with them and you've continually decided to pull the children away from me with lies. If you do want to be with me. I understand that. We now have to operate within a process that requires leverage. Unfortunately- the leverage you've used contained a bunch of lies. And I'm going to be able to through what will be a very long and expensive process unpack each one.

There are some truths. For sure. You should have stuck to those.

John Wantz on 10/9/2023 1:44PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/9/2023 6:08PM):

Like you should just stop with your narratives and lies. I would suggest you come clean with your attorney about what was you lied about in the protection order and in the divorce filings. I would then ask her how challenging this process will be for you should I be able to refute those lies with evidence. What's that going to cost you/us? I'm being told $50k for my fees and close to $20k for the children's attorney. I'm also being told that your law firm is well known for dropping their clients the moment they can't pay. Your lies are going to be very expensive to maintain.

I'm sharing basic aspects of the process with them so they can understand what is going on as you won't discuss it with them. I welcome the opportunity to present evidence to support any statement I ever make.

As far as the weekend trip-the girls were there but not in the same house and they had their own house. I wasn't aware they had those plans until the day before but the moms reassured me they would separate the boys and girls a good amount and have rules and boundaries. There were 3 moms and 5 girls, with flood lights and cameras on the house. plus they all go to their church and have good morals. The guys were in a different house with the same rules. I like all the parents-they all attend church and one set of parents were Ezra's camp leader/helper. It wasn't a trip where they were all together. Just happened to air bnb near eachother. They had a lot of time not together. And did see eachother some too.

No. I spoke to my lawyer yesterday and the day before. Nothing has changed since sept 21 ruling. It's the same and has been since then-You do not have the bigs every weekend. It is their choice if they come to your house more than the 8ish hours on your possession time. My possession time is my possession time and the teen clause does not apply during my possession time. It's only when it comes to your weekend.

You would love to not pay me anything even if the court orders you to and now tell me I'm not allowed to get a lawyer.

Please stop messaging me harrassing things like this and do not text me outside of this app anymore. And do not text the kids telling them to hang out with you, they said they feel pressured by you to see you and i am ok with them seeing you in my possession time IF THEY WANT. But not to be pressured by you, which they say they are and wanted to show me the texts you send them. But i don't want to see it, i just believe them.

Please stop. It's not your weekend. It's mine and I'm allowed peace without you.

You're lack of coordination adds stress to Ezra's life.

I'm not able to have the littles tonight. I've missed too much of Ezra's life and need to be at his whole game. These windows of times you've imposed on me are ridiculous and are only damaging our children.

You can talk to the judge regarding your issues. I'm following her orders. And have contacted her that you are harrassing at times on here and via text. And that you have not paid ANYTHING AT ALL, even tho she ordered you to. And you are the one that weekly changes plans with the possession times she has set forth for you. You can't even make the ones you have, it's always changing.

Divorce is hard. What you've done to all of us is extra hard. We are all doing the best we can with what you've given us as a husband and father. You have completely failed me as a husband and father to our kids as a role model.

I did not ok the weekend with him, he went straight to you because it's your weekend of possession and i think that's great. Then he let me know you were ok with it. But i need to double check because even tho you ok'd it-you will still blame me for anything and everything.

It's not ever my lack of communicating with ezra, if anything i over communicate with him. I know all of his feelings and pains. I know that the last time he was at your house he got in the car with me and said he never wanted to see you again.

You can totally serve me at work, no worries there. Do it anytime.

I'm not trading you for that weekend, we have plans. I will have them the weekend of Nov 4-6. Are you also giving up Thursday Nov 2? And sometime when i maybe need a weekend covered, I'll Ofcourse let you know. But at this time i don't have to trade, but i will have them for you.

I won't be checking this. See you tomorrow at 6pm for pick up at chic filet for the littles.

I left ALOT of things in that house. You are a liar. And I recorded all i left for you, the one that left the house and left the state.
And guess what.....i have the custody so i don't have to supply anything to you. My Lawyer guided me through ALL of it. I am the homemaker and caretaker of our kids. I have the majority of custody and they don't want to see you! So i get their beds and clothes. They took what they wanted to live with because they want to live with me and NOT YOU. They begged me to never live with you ever again.
You even told maia that you are fine having the kids not on school nights and every other weeknd because you don't want to get them off to school or do dr or dentist appts. You didn't even email greys teacher back for conferences. You didn't take ezra to his braces appt. You have choices to step up and you constantly back down and blame me?! I'm going to chow the courts everything. You don't do anything for them besides sit around and talk poorly about me, even tho they ask you to stop and tell you repeatedly that i don't do that. Maia said that she pointed out to you that you need therapy and that you said you go and that you talk about what you want to do with the kids. Not the actual abuse that you put on us. Not the truth about what you've done t everyone. You are told to get anger management and therapy and you aren't.

I am blamed for every little thing that has ever gone wrong in your life. Time to take responsibility for your sins and actions. You've lost me. And you think i have insecurities? FALSE. I'm the best thing that ever happened to you. And i tried to make you happy for too long. You will forever regret the way you treated me and all of us. I don't want to be married to you. The kids don't want to see you. That's facts. You lie and think you didn't abuse us? Because you are the abuser and you were ok with all of it, even tho we were miserable. You were ok and didn't think anything was wrong because that's what abusers do. The kids didn't want you at youth group, they'd ask if you were home before you got home because they didn't want you there. And i made excuses for you and told them you were stressed. Let me get this straight.....you want to pay 50K to get 10K back from your ex wife that wants to divorce you. You won't approve maia therapy, you want let duke move schools to get more speech. You are denying them good good things because you want control that you lost. I look forward to court and showing that you are making SO MANY CHOICES FOR YOU. And not them. Maia and ezra feel like you repeatedly choose you Over them. And they cry over it. I have to not say anything, hold them and pray. Every time. And you are not letting them say. You are blocking them. Honestly until you stop the narrative that I'm all to blame here, you sneak it in every sentence you can, it's not best if we speak about this stuff. If you were a person that didn't put every little thing on their mom, then we could totally talk about all the parenting things. But every paragraph, is putting me to blame with a narrative that I'm using the kids, etc. It's not what's best here, John. I'd love to sit down and chat about all the things. Come to a conclusion on things like therapy and such for them. I miss the good times. It's been a long time since it's been good. Years, really. Im sad. The kids are sad. We're all dealing with it in different ways. But i can't own all the faults anymore from you. Being married or not being married. It's hurtful and it's not real. Im sorry. I miss the good times and we are all so sad. I hope you can be so good for the kids. And learn from past mistakes. But you can't continue to blame me in every paragraph you write. It's not ok. And i hope someday we can talk about stuff. But i can't be a part of owning it all like you have put on me for years.

Both littles are doing great. Duke has started to stomp his feet and yell. You know Grey, and he interrupts duke. It's normal stuff and i have to remind grey to let duke talk. But it's nothing the other two didn't do, too. Just normal parenting stuff. School nights are not best with you. And I'll look at weekends again but they're booked. Keep your Thursdays, don't cancel them like you have. And look ahead at your parenting weekends and don't work on them. And I'm sure we can trade or you take them one of my weekends in the future. It's just not in Nov.

I got on here to ask you to maybe if you have time, look at Maias car? It's giving codes of break lights, but she says it's not out and it's just the code? Can you verify that for me? Or i can take it to a shop.

I miss us. I miss our home. I'm sad. I miss you the way you used to be and kind and supportive but it's been a really long time since you've been kind and good and you haven't shown me that you are committed or capable of that now. You blame me for everything, i get you are angry with me. But i just can't do it anymore. It doesn't mean I'm not sad either, John. We are all sad. The kids. Me. I assume you are too. This is a sad thing to go through. And it's not what i wanted to do at all. I don't want to divorce, i committed to you and our marriage. But you have been angry and wrongly accusing me for things and the kids were not happy at all. For everything you think this divorce is messing them up, they were more messed up before. They repeat it to me all the time. This isn't cozy. But living with you angry was way less cozy.

I'm sorry. I cry all the time and am having to be ok without you. But this is what the kids asked for, I'm not using them as leverage. It just is what it is. They didn't want to live in a house with you anymore. I asked them to continually give you grace. Forgiveness. It was toxic and yucky for us. And we feel that we begged you to be calm, not stressed, and to be kind.

I'm sure this will make you made. Everything makes you mad at me and gives you more fuel to add to me. But it is what it is. And i want you to know that i know we are all hurting. The littles, bigs, me. This is rough. But living with you was rough too. And it was more rough than all of this that's going on now. That's how your family feels. And I'm sorry we all feel that way. I don't want to feel that way and i don't want the kids upset with you. I want them happy and to want to see you. Not be forced to, they feel forced to. But I'm glad they are forced to a little because i think it's bringing healing little by little.

For what it's worth, i miss us. The long ago us. And i miss you, the 18 year old you. You are not the same, I'm ok to change. But you changed into this angry guy, John. More angry than not angry.

Have fun with the kiddos. And if i need a break or see a window where you can have the littles maybe even overnight on a Friday? I'll let you know.

And I'll get the FAMILY wording to you.

John Wantz on 10/22/2023 11:43AM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/22/2023 4:55PM):

Jama - nice try with the narratives that I'm a bad guy who is angry. I'm planning on calling every person in our life except the ones who helped you lie in the protection order to refute your statements about me.

How in a million years would you ever think it would be best for the children for you to never talk to me about so-called conversations where our teens are supposedly asking you to divorce their father. Not one conversation. Who is the parent? How could you have not shared any concerns they had with me in regards to the marriage. Do you think Maia is going to be positively influenced by the direct control she has had in this process?

You blew up our home. Ripped the children from me. And you did it with lies.

The words that most articulate your actions against our family are: wicked betrayal.

You're not a good parent for letting our children perpetually get everything they want in every facet of their life.

I'm sure you're hurting. I'm beyond broken heartened. I would have done anything over any amount of time to remove the toxic behavior we both brought into our marriage. You know that.

You've thrown us into a worst legal situation on the planet.

You've refused to be fair during it. And again. You kicked this off with getting the upper hand through leverage.

Leverage that I'll have to spend time, money and focus on removing through exposing (with the information I have) that your protection was full of lies and half truths your testimony was some of the best lying I've seen you do. (And I've seen a lot)

Jama - you've destroyed the trust and care I would need to have to allow my heart to believe your words. Keep portraying that the bigger kids don't want to be with me. We'll get to the bottom of that.

I love that you're asking for compassion after what you've done.

I'll continue to assume that you will not allow the kids to retain any of the time I'm allowed through shifting schedules as I need to travel for work.

I'll share my concerns with the littles and bigs with their attorney.

John Wantz on 10/22/2023 12:03PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/22/2023 4:55PM):

Let's also be real clear. I'm not passively blaming you for the the littles bad behavior- I'm explicitly stating that I know the structure and discipline I brought to our home is completely lacking. I wasn't aware of this until Ezra without prompt brought up how bad Grey is being in the home and you 'won't do anything about it'. I asked him how he feels about that and Ezra shared that he feels the responsibility of having the discipline Grey but you shut that down, but in turn don't do anything.

The last two times I'm with Grey he has brought up WITHOUT PROMPT how mean Ezra is to him.

It's clear the struggles the children are having in an environment where they get what they want non stop.

Ezra was dealing with suicidal depression. But you took his advice in wanting to 'get away' from the ONE parent that was providing structure that was finally helping him. But ya. His screen time is more important.

Jama - perhaps if you would have been more than 10% of our homes structure and discipline I wouldn't be perceived as the 'angry' guy.

My job in our devolved into having to provide all future guidance for our children while being responsible for their present behavior.

Would have been great to have a partner in that. A partner that saw that hard work, that supported it and when it was MOST needed and was working (during Ezra's depression) partner with me - rather than shutting me out.

The kids, as will all kids choose the east path. You've embodied that. You = self pleasure. I = hard work, growth, character. It's that simple. I'm going to do everything I can in the court process to protect the littles from growing up in a home that doesn't prepare them for their futures.

Jama Wantz on 10/22/2023 5:05PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 10/22/2023 5:17PM):

I'm not taking your threats. And you're building an unrealistic reality for yourself. Grey was acting up at first. Now he is doing FANTASTIC. No tempter tantrums or anything. And I'm growing the relationship between grey and ezra that has been toxic. See how you blame me for things? I'm not strict enough.....so you have to be? It's not real and it's just one of the many way you blame me. Dads can be strict, you are overly and use yelling, untruths. You should never have done 20 of the things that you have done to me in front of our kids. Never. That's one thing I've learned. You will not succeed. Half the people you wrote on your list of people would say you have good character actually can't stand you. So go ahead. And no one in their right mind would take away kids from a mom for not being strict enough at the dad's testimony. You've created a wrong narrative completely, blaming me. You always have. Any anything wrong with life has been my responsibility at the root with you. And it's not correct, it's not ok. I work my buns off. Always have. Still am. And you always have said so. You are the abuser in our home and made it so none of us had a safe place to talk. I've fixed that. We talk about everything. I'm building relationships. Trust. Feelings. Safety. Boundaries. The teens have been grounded, they've had corrections, as with the littles. They get warnings. They get clear boundaries and everyone gets disciplining actions to them. I'm the best mom. And you know it. But because I'm not doing what you want anymore, you're making a fake story about me not being the best mom. Shame on you.

I'm trying to be communicative. If you're going to choose to not discuss honoring the court or or coordinate basic communication in the app, I don't think that plays well for you with the courts.

You're not hurting me, you're hurting the kids.

And thanksgiving week

I'm pretty sure you get them Friday the 17th starting at 6pm, until Sunday the 26th at 6pm. Does that sound right to you/are you planning that?

I believe that the boys having more time with me than the two hours they are afforded weekly should be happening.

On Thursdays the boys will be with a coach. They will only be able to talk to me to the clinic and back.

Duke had me hold him the entire time we were together last week.

Can I please ask you you allow me to have two hours AT LEAST one on one with them.

I'm not overselling, you're creating something out of nothing. I speak with the counselor and teachers and Ezra and all is good and he's at school, hasn't missed school.

John Wantz on 12/5/2023 10:26AM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 12/7/2023 10:29AM):

He was already suicidal and is now being dragged through a divorce. You know that he has historically come to me with these issues. I really wish you wouldn't have violated the court order this weekend, and allowed me to see him.

I'm pleading with you to please STOP minimizing what Ezra has been through and pretending things are great.

Ezra has verbally shared with me:

1. He believes this divorce is his fault. He doesn't know the planning you were doing with Taylor ahead of time with getting your resume ready, etc.
2. You've told him that 'you did this for him' - I can't imagine how he is dealing with that information.
3. He has shared that he is carrying the weight of disciplining his brothers and you won't discipline them. Your ability to be a good parent or not a good parent for Grey and Duke is not what I'm addressing - I'm addressing Ezra's response to this issue.

4. Last and not least - Ezra shared with me that he can't, and hasn't talked to you about his true feelings.

I understand you probably need your tell yourself as you've told everyone on our broad community that I was bad for Ezra. And you're good for Ezra. It doesn't matter. We have to find what's best for Ezra.

I've contacted the school and am working with the counselors there. I've also shared with the Amicus that Ezra has NOT been to counseling as he shared during these horrific 4 months, and I have counselors that have been lined up ready to go. They are therapist, counselors, and share out Christian beliefs.

Can we please get him into counseling.

John Wantz on 12/7/2023 3:37PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 12/7/2023 3:51PM):

Jama Wantz on 12/7/2023 4:32PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 12/7/2023 4:37PM):

I'll have the boys at basketball tomorrow at 9am. Grey fell asleep last night.

That's not Ezra's current schedule or his grades. He has 2 A's, 3 B's and 2 C+'s. Way better than last year. 1 assignment is missing and 1 C+ will go up once that is logged. I'm in touch with teachers and counselors.

John Wantz on 12/8/2023 8:02PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 12/9/2023 7:48AM):

Jama - how are you getting access to different grades?

Also - I'm not worried about his grades. I'm concerned about his stress level.

I've wanted to lighten his load for months. I wasn't part of coordinating his schedule with him and his schedule is too hard and not focused around his strengths.

I want to reduce his stress. I'm optimistic he is going to need counseling. I've asked for Ezra to be in counseling since the moment he came to me over his suicide attempt. I want him to get help. Please.

I've sent my attorneys a list of counselors that I've research that can do in person meetings.

This can be available for Ezra immediately. Are you willing to let me get him into these counselors if the court approves?

Jama - I'm unable to get a response from any of the children.

Considering the holidays and delay in the attorneys, detectives and CPS to run to ground their process - I'm concerned the children are not able to communicate with me.

We're going to Dicks and Old Navy. I think it would be VERY good for Duke and Grey if you could join us.

I don't think Maia and Ezra need to play referee. If you'd like to come and meet us, we can get our boys some clothing they need.

Couple things - as mentioned - I was concerned that Grey and Duke hadn't been given their jackets that they have at your house to wear at drop offs. I bought staple jackets that will fit them through the winter and hopefully beyond. I'll pack the primary jacket and a few of their other coats for them to have at your apartment.

I'm giving Grey a bag that he can use when he visits your apartment. We discussed him bringing his tooth brush, jeans, hat and favorite foods and some toys.

When he comes back home, he wants all of those items returned home.

Again - these are items they want to have there but want returned.

So you'd like to get back together or you are going to do some things this week? Or you'd like more of the custody?

my only option is to push through the court process in order to salvage a healthy future for kids. You won't co-parent. You're not capable of handling them, you've been drinking, you're still sustaining a wildly expensive car, you're letting Ezra steal, you're letting Maia drink, you're continuing to run me down in front of them.

My 'threat' was - "if we continue through the legal process rather than pursuing counseling, then yes. This will be very hard. It's not a threat it reality. Wake up. I'm broke and have had to borrow ten of thousands of dollars for lawyers. You've locked us into a process that only brings pain. Financial pain, emotional pain, and destroys. With the exception of Tricia who seems to appreciate the kids, no one else in this process cares about our hearts. Our children's hearts. Your attorney talks shit about you to my attorneys. On the first call with my attorneys.

No one is more responsible for our family than us.

So yes. Any version of health through counseling is better than the path we're on.

And yes. If we stay on this path things get worse. For both of us. That's way this works.

You've said multiple times to several people 'I'm just going I let the courts settle things out for us.' That's not smart.

I care for you. I would rebuild.

You've left us no choice but to fight via the court process.

I've tried this weekend to communicate civilly and give you an opportunity to respond to alternative paths.

John Wantz on 1/16/2024 8:27AM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 1/18/2024 2:48PM):

Jama the experts say that the greatest damage that happens to children is conflict through divorce. Seeing their parents not be able to communicate and have conflict ongoing.

I'm aware of most of what you've exposed our children to and 'all the years of abuse you've faced' and all the lies about me leaving, and the 'hardships' that I've brought upon you in this process.

This is ALL your doing. You got us into this mess. You were planning it with Taylor before we had our blow up.

You need to own that. You've decided a path for yourself and it's clear that you've decided to try to blame me.

I don't care what you think. I care what you're telling the kids.

You've refused counseling for our family numerous times. You pleaded with the court that we shouldn't go through counseling for this.

What the hell is your plan. To wedge the kids away from me forever?

You call me asking these questions harassing. I've had a counselor explain to me that because you can't hit me anymore - that this is your new form of abuse. Destroying my relationship with Maia and Ezra.

The children who you testified that I was responsible for ensuring their futures.

I was a really good father. You know that. What the hell are you doing?

You're leaving no choice but for our children to be ripped apart.

I've asked you at least 5 times to try to rebuild something via counseling. You've dodged the question. You've claimed I'm threatening you or harassing you. Jama let me be clear. I will continue to use the courts the greatest of my ability to have a relationship with my children. If you consider that a threat, relay my statement to your attorney.

You've lied about so much. You think I'm not going to use all of that in this process.

Also - let's be real clear. I know you hit the shit out of Duke. Let's be real clear about that.

Maia came over her and blurted out how scared she was for the other child you were watching. He sneezed in your face and Maia said to me "you know how mad mom gets". She then told all of us how you smacked the shit out of the kid because he couldn't sleep.

I am directing my attorneys this week to pursue domestic violence charges on you for your costly assaulting of me for twenty years. I'm also walking them through how you had Ezra lie about what happened to Duke and how Grey changed his story.

You're having your children lie. I'm going to ensure the children have a path to communicate with the police without your manipulation.

You have never shown an ability to mend a relationship and be healthy after you've done damage and blown up a relationship. The list is long.

In making this decision with your old friend Taylor (who now hates your guys) - what was your plan. I'd really like to know. Did you think I would leave the kids. Did you think I would want to maintain the care, attention and growth that I had fostered with them their whole lives.

You can think whatever you want. I'll be running to going in the court the lies you've said about me and will be doing everything attorneys can think of to ensure you're manipulative control of the children is stopped.

I know you're stressed. I've tried to talk this out with you. You're incapable.

Jama - I will never forgive you for what you've done to this family with your lies. I am financially preparing to pursue you for the next two - three years to un pack and hold you accountable for your lies.

I am going to be pursuing full time custody for Grey and Duke. It's what is best for them. Counselors and both your and my family agree.

You will not co parent. Your are clearly ashamed of what you have done and can't engage me because of it. You're 100% accountable for dragging Maia and Ezra into this.

I will never trust you again. You've destroyed our family.

I'm deleting this app & will only be communicating with you through attorneys.

We need to talk. There are several matters unfolding that will be hard for the children.

I'm sorry the parenting plan has taken this long. Really wish we could have stabilized the situation sooner for the kids.

The big kids don't deserve the weight they are carrying.

I'm not interested in your attorney burning my time. If you and your attorneys are slow, I'm going to expedite everything I can in the courts to ensure the kids are safe. I'm not hiding your acts of violence anymore. I think it's time to ensure all parties in the matter know what they are dealing with. It will be good for us to get through this quick.

As I continue to ask. Let's talk.

Hey

I'm pretty sure because Friday is a holiday, that you get the boys Thursday after school until Sunday at 6pm

Please reply back and let me know if you plan on that

I'll have a bag of your stuff I'll send with them, please send back grey with his white Nikes on Sunday and any school jeans you can spare.

John Wantz on 3/27/2024 7:28AM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 3/27/2024 9:42AM):

That all sounds great.

Jama - let's and this. I've spoken with the police. They are going to come after you for the pole you hit. They have eye witnesses that have statements that you asked people not to call 911 'because you were drinking'. As soon as progressive finds that out - they won't cover anything including the car payoff.

I want to help you. I'm sure you have a hard time believing that, but it's true.

I have parenting plan that will bring to trial that we can just do now, and and we can't get out of the courts, and I can start paying child support. I even have an extra car that we could discuss.

I don't want to talk to you either. Trust me. But we need to.

Jama Wantz on 3/27/2024 10:08AM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 3/27/2024 10:08AM):

I want to work with you. Send me the proposal you have and hopefully we can get it settled before mediation to save the cost of it all.

John Wantz on 3/27/2024 9:14PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 3/31/2024 6:03PM):

I'm here to help. Let's get you protected the best we can for the upcoming legal stuff. I can get my car into your hands.

Regarding a plan...

Treatment is what will be best. It will look good for the courts. And I think it will be good for you. I'll take care of all the four kids while you're in treatment. We'll work with a counselor moving forward.

We need to be able to talk. We need to be able to paper this up. We need to move quick. Your call.

And I need to ensure that you're getting his glasses to school, I have an optometrist prescription for Grey to wear those. I've provided the school with instructions for Grey to be wearing his glasses. I appreciate that you don't respect my opinion regarding Grey glasses however a doctor is requiring him to wear them, please ensure his glasses are at school. Please ensure that his backpack comes home with me. I'm only gonna ask this once and then I'm going to involve the school officials yet again.

I'd prefer for the backpacks not to come home with you, I want to get everything back with them the next day and i always clean their things, ready their lunch boxes, etc. They have had things not come back with them and it upsets them, so this is easier and better. I've actually asked the principal, my lawyer and teachers and they've all said this is ok. Duke has the flu this am. Your mouth language is very inappropriate around the children or you're welcome to tell me that you're allowing for Maia and EZRA to speak this way either way this is wildly inappropriate and continues to show me the type of parenting that you're deploying with Grey and Duke.

Furthermore - I still need to speak further with the CPS worker that the police department assigned as they want me personally to see through Duke's forthcoming medical exam. I'll try to get him into the hospitals they suggested tomorrow.

We celebrated his birthday today with friends and family. It was a hard day to spend at dell children's hospital. I would have to cancelled his birthday party.

Hey Trish said we do our weekends wrong. It goes by Fridays at the 3pm pickup. So the first weekend of June where it started on a Saturday, you and i counted it as yours-It was really mine. ~~03/08/2024~~ so now we are opposite of what it's supposed to be. Do you want to start that after august tho? Otherwise this past weekend was really mine but you got them for Father's Day. And then this weekend is technically yours.
I get to pick one weekend in the summer outside of July and get one of yours, and then one in July to see the kids.
So my thought is if this weekend is technically yours, maybe i pick this one as mine? Then i get the one after that. Then starting in July you get them?
Tell me what you think of that.
Also, Thursdays 3-7 aren't supposed to happen. But if it works for us, she said we can keep it. So i could have them the next 2 weekends with you still having Thursdays?
Or do you want them this weekend since it's yours, I'll have them the last weekend in June. Then you get them starting July 1st at like 9am?

Its confusing.

So in review-

What do you want to do for the next 2 weekends?

And Thursdays 3-7?

And for my weekend in July-can i have them July 12 3pm-14th 6pm?

Let me know your thoughts and I'll let her know our plan via email and cc you on it?

Jama - I've been contacted by security for a store that is looking to pursue charges against you.

I'm being asked to provide information on your stealing and if I will testify.

When will this shit stop? What is your problem?

I've looked at dates of the charges you've received and it's clear why you had us leave Orange County. It's clear that you've been a massive liar about who you are and the problems you have.

I again - really want you to understand and share with your terrible attorneys that I will be suing you for multiple other ongoing issues until I can rest knowing the kids won't be exposed to the turmoil of dealing with you and your decisions.

I have no concern about how next week ends up as I have other lawsuits lined up.

I've tried to settle. You have no idea how hard I will be fighting you for years to come.

I really hope you keep your attorneys. Watching them realize the person you are, take your money and deal with the TRUTH I'll be bringing before the courts will bring satisfaction through the justice you deserve.

Have you stopped to think that every single fight or frustrating communication (at least 80% - 90%) we had was due to your stealing / acquiring of stolen goods.

When you're an old woman and thinking about the destruction you brought upon your family I want you to remember that the majority of conflict you and I had was due to your lying about stealing you were doing for years.

Ezra remembers being with you and you being caught.

You've lied to get a protection order against me, you've lied to numerous people about being in an 'abusive' relationship and I will never, never eat until I've used every aspect of the courts to unpack and seek justice for your use of lies to destroy our family and rip the children from me.

So I looked into trying to facilitate this request of yours, and unfortunately, it appears it may be too arduous to achieve. we're going to be commuting to jiu-jitsu with another family, we don't know how long it's going to be, the boys are gonna need dinner there after, and unfortunately it sounds like the needed flexibility doesn't work for you. Perhaps next time we can work something out. I'll see you August 1.

Jama, I attempted to ring you on your cell phone to discuss the matter with your biological father. I think you're creating tension for our son that's really really undo. I understand you want to eradicate me from his life and everyone's life but unfortunately that's not going to happen. I'm going to stick around for the life of our children and for your life to ensure that health is pursued. If you want to talk about trivial things, I'm always here. Otherwise you need to grow up and stop being a spoiled brat.

John Wantz on 7/16/2024 9:57PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 7/16/2024 10:28PM):

Hi Jama,

I've been requested to inform you with the following: I wanted to inform you that I am planning to request a temporary order from Patricia regarding the custody of Duke and Grey. My intent is to pursue a new, near-term temporary custody arrangement that will ensure their well-being as we move into the fall.

I firmly believe that this decision is in the best interest of our boys. Your ongoing instability, criminal activity, and inability to co-parent effectively demonstrate that you cannot provide the stable environment they need. Therefore, I am seeking a solution that prioritizes their success and stability.

I am working with Patricia and the amicus attorney to establish a long-term plan that transcends the current lawsuit you've filed against me. This plan will reflect the reality of the subsequent legal actions I will be pursuing against you. These actions are driven by the child abuse you exposed Duke to, and they will include protective orders and mandatory mental health and substance abuse treatment for you. My goal is to impose the most rigorous restraints possible through the courts to ensure the safety and well-being of our children.

While I look forward to you becoming more meaningfully involved over time, it must be done under strict oversight and after you have demonstrated significant improvement in your behavior and stability. The boys deserve a safe and nurturing environment, and I will use every legal avenue available to guarantee that.

Best regards,

JOHN

John Wantz on 7/16/2024 10:00PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 7/16/2024 10:29PM):

The alternative of course, is you and I actually having an adult conversation between two parents as it pertains to the best plan for Grey & Duke.

As you are clearly unable to have a conversation with me about what's best for Grey and Duke I understand that the courts and attorneys and judges will continue to be the Avenue in which you're going to address situations for children.

I wish you the best of luck and I'm super excited to continue to expose and develop transparency around the situation through the courts.

You have no clue how patient I intend to be for subsequent years to come in exposing your unhealthy behavior for our children.

If you ever wanna talk about what's best for the kids. I encourage you to reach out for to Patricia to bridge conversations for an amicable solution for our children.

Best of luck.

John

Jama -

I've spoken with the administration at Lakeway Elementary and would like to enroll Grey and Duke there for the fall.

It's disappointing that the trial got pushed to September as I was hoping we could have determined this in court.

I will be in the current divorce trial, along with a subsequent trial pursuing primary custody of Grey and Duke.

I will want them to attend Lakeway Elementary for numerous reasons that you may or may not agree with.

I'm asking that we coordinate the move together now, rather than me moving them after the school year starts.

I would want to be equally involved with you in their school life and for numerous reasons believe this change will serve them better.

Are you willing to discuss this?

JOHN

Jama Wantz on 8/14/2024 4:51PM texted (viewed by John Wantz on 8/14/2024 4:55PM):

As stated before and i will state it one more time clearly for you. I take their backpacks home with me so that i can

1) make their lunches and snacks and clean the boxes before they come home in the evening so that when they are with me, i can focus on them and do baths/teeth/reading.

2) they say they don't want the backpacks to go with you/they want them to stay with me. They don't want to carry them, they prefer this option.

3) there's nothing at all that is being kept from you via paperwork or anything sent home in the backpacks, it is purely for food and snack purposes. If there is ever paperwork in there, I'll let you know but it is all done via email/they are not given homework or have folders come home with them at this time. But if there was, I'd let you know.

You can follow up with Mia regarding this. I've contacted my lawyers and boss and it is my choice and in the best interested of our children for the above reasons.

Wasn't sharing my opinion was just referring you to speak to the lawyers and not me because i can't care less what you say and how you shape it to seem like you care about the kids-i won't be conversing again regarding the backpacks, maybe Mia will care.

I know my rights and I'm following them. This is about the kids and they love not having their backpacks to carry. Tell who you want but 100% of the people you complain to, don't care about it and see through it-it's just too bad you don't. Because then you'd learn to be better and your kids would benefit greatly from you changing big time.

I'll see you at chic filet tomorrow at 6pm and Sunday evening at 6pm.

John Wantz on 9/8/2024 1:17PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 9/8/2024 2:32PM):

You need to know that as a mother - your ability to book appointments and shop for groceries is really all you are good for.

As you testified our children's futures, their heart, integrity, discipline and who they were to become was me. (Your words not mine) The real work.

Outside of what will be the minimum exposure to you that will be defined as healthy for the children going forward as it pertains to exposure to you is all that matters.

I look at this final hearing to be the closing of a season, with the next season of this process right around the corner.

You think you can lie to Maia about being abused and I'm going to let you continue to be unhealthy. I think you'll find the tactics my attorneys will be using over the next couple years introduce a level of stress through justice that just might change your perspective.

You're a liar. You're not a good mother. And generally you not a good person.

John Wantz on 9/8/2024 1:24PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 9/8/2024 2:33PM):

Jama - you're a liar. There was no abuse. None. I don't abuse you. I'm glad you're convincing Maia of that. It's fun when people realize you're a liar.

I have about 1-2 people a week that you consider to be close reach out. While they are cautious at first, they are sharing things like 'I don't think Jama understands what a narcissist is'. Or they simple say how sorry they feel for Maia and Ezra.

While it's uncertain how our next court date will net out.

Please know I intend to use the courts to protect our children from your mental health issues, substance issues and criminal activity.

It may take another year or so, but I've been told by numerous attorneys that you ending up with court order mental health oversights, substance testing etc. is where this will end up.

Keep telling lies about me and I'll keep using the truth against you.

The kids are what matters. That's all I care about.

I'm not supporting the stress and angst you apply to them. I talk to the school. They informed me it's not necessary, they won't feel left out. I'm not participating in your control and stress of what the children wear.

If you are so concerned about what they wear, you should go steal what you want.

I asked Grey and Duke if they wanted to wear them this week. They said no. Duke wanted his Messi jersey. That's it.

I'm talking with the counselors to discuss a timeline and needs as it pertains to Maia.

My attorneys are advising me to file a suit against Hudson Greer.

As hard as you've tried to keep me from her from me if I'm not able to discuss the sexual assault matter with her I'm filing without her involvement.

I would like for you to join the conversation with Maia and I regarding the assault.

I'm discussing this with the counselors Monday and hope you'll participate should the counselors suggest you join.

Ok. Can you please let me know on the above.

John Wantz on 10/20/2024 6:46PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/21/2024 6:13PM):

I want to pause on the child picked sports with the boys and put them on either karate or Jiu Jitsu.

Being on a team and getting better at sports requires practicing outside of the sport as I did with Ezra his whole life. Grey is not advanced enough to play without having a father in the home. Duke is too young and isn't interested enough at working hard.

We will continue to be in court for the next couple years and socially team sports will not get easier for you and I. The boys can excel individually for different reasons and develop some foundational confidence and get back into sports when they are a Little older.

Assuming your attorneys have abandoned you because there is no more money for them to take from you, you need to decide the level of communication you desire to have with me around planning. If you're waiting for a softer John who always gave in and let you get your way, I say this in peace, that's never going to happen. I have material concerns that we either need to work through or we go back through the courts.

I'm going to be sure Maia understand s that I've pleaded with you for a year to discuss and coordinate how to handle Hudson's assault on her and you coordinating with the Greers and not choosing to discuss it with me is why I'm left with no options. All I need is 5 minutes in counseling with her to ensure she understand all the reasoning and rational for my position. I think that with your history of being raped and allowing your body to be used by men should considered by the counselor and Maia and should discount the authority on the matter. Do you remember when Lonnie, My mom, and I had to bring a ladder to the house you lived in with Lynn and help You escape out of a window because you were being constantly raped in that house???- I'm at a point where if I have one window in life to talk to maia in front of a counselor she and the counselor need to know my concerns around you input on Maia's sexuality, her being assaulted and that you leading her through it, is not in her best interest.

I've also received information that made me nearly throw up about you last month and have attorneys verifying its accuracy, which would also significantly lend itself to you lot being fit to help lead our daughter through a sexual assault.

I've started a job. And can budget to cover the cost for Grey and Duke's karate/Jiu Jitsu. We can coordinate on schedules. You drop off, I take them home, etc.

I'll plan on paying you the % owed via this app when paychecks start hitting.

John Wantz on 10/20/2024 6:47PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 10/21/2024 6:14PM):

If you want me to have to contact LTYA, I will but right now there's other things that I think would be more helpful for the boys to be in then throwing them on teams where the coaches don't give them the time and attention they need and their father is alienated from the Environment.

Maia and Ezra have the judges direct phone number and keep in touch with her, as well have met with her personally. They are all in agreement with how they want to move forward with you.

My lawyer receives everything you send out. You are in contempt once again and the judge has been notified.

My lawyer has done all the judge has asked of him.

You will see the little children the second weekend of November and that is all. The fourth weekend falls on Thanksgiving break, in which i have possession this year. I will not give you any extra time than what the judge has given you, you have not proven to anyone that you can handle hand offs.

Duke clearly showing emotional stress and Grey is over stimulated. They both are having an incredibly late dinner and they seem super worn down. It's a long workday for you. It's way too long for Duke & Grey.

I'm willing to still pay full guideline if you would allow for me to have Grey and Duke Sunday Night through Thursday morning. With weekends rotating. You would see them every day. They would see their dad everyday. Please think about it.

I think me having Grey and Duke through the week would allow for them to see you everyday. I would pick them up. Handle sports. They would eat great. Sleep very well and be to school on time

Notice Regarding Duke and Grey's After-School Program

AppClose®

Dear Ms. Wantz,

I am writing to formally notify you regarding Duke and Grey's participation in after school community programs at LTISD. As outlined in the court order, we are joint managing conservators, and decisions regarding "Community Programs" require meaningful consultation between both of us. I was not consulted about their enrollment in this program, which is a violation of the court order.

Additionally, the current schedule places Duke and Grey in over 55-60 hours of structured programming each week, which I believe is excessive and not in their best interest. After reviewing the situation, I have decided that Duke and Grey should no longer participate in this program. I have notified the school of my position and requested that they remove Duke and Grey from the program, effective after Thanksgiving break, to allow for a smooth transition.

I ask that you respect this decision and ensure that we follow the court's requirements for meaningful consultation in the future regarding decisions of this nature. If you have any questions or need to discuss this further, I am open to communicating, but my position regarding this program is final.

I've requested the school to have them removed from said programs.

If you or your attorney want to have a meaningful discussion about keep Grey and Duke and school for 55-60 hours a week, I'd welcome the opportunity to discuss it.

Best regards,
John Wantz

My understanding from talking to the court and attorneys is that the only reason we're getting dragged back into court and will encourage additional attorneys fees is because you are unable to produce Duke's Social Security number. If you and I can work on finding his Social Security number and establishing that it would avoid a waste of time and money and going to court.

This is the court, dragging us back in being very pissed off, not at me, not at you, but both of us. I would like to stop wasting time. Can you please talk to your attorney if you don't believe what I'm trying to Articulate.

John Wantz on 12/10/2024 2:42PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 12/10/2024 8:50PM):

I am formally requesting a copy of Duke's medical records, including his birth certificate and any other related documentation you removed from the home in violation of the court-issued protection order when you moved the children. These records are essential for generating Duke's Social Security number, as requested by the court.

Until you return these documents, I am unable to fulfill this request. As such, the responsibility for addressing this matter remains solely with you. Please provide the requested records promptly to ensure this issue is resolved without further delay.

Sincerely,

So your possession is pick up at school Dec 20 at 11:40, until Thursday Dec 26, 6pm-at the Lakeway Police Dept.
I've attached the page where it says, so that you can reference it. And if you have questions, refer to Trish or Bret. They were released from the case but i will hire and use them if needed.

There is a new order the judge filed and signed today. It is 37 pages. Read it. You are very behind on child support and the possession dates have been outlined clearly in it. I will be following it, as are the lawyers and judge. She signed it because what Bret wrote, and Trish read over, is correct with what the Judge decided. You do not have to agree to any of it, but you do have to follow it.

When we first moved to Austin, Maia suggested that we attend Austin Ridge. I remembered dismissing her suggestion because I thought she was focused on being around her friends and we had started attending Lake Hills and I told her we need to invest in the place God had brought our family to.

If your time at Lake Hills has passed, I would suggest you try out Austin Ridge.

The boys are dialed in there and it's a big church. We can both exist there. And the preaching is amazing.

I've attended the divorce recovery class (two times) and think anyone would benefit from it.

It's a good church. Services 9 & 11.

Hey grey and duke want to do piano so I'm going to sign them up to start that soon. And grey wants to do soccer too. I'll get you the schedule once i know it. And the possession for you is the weekends that start on the second and forth Fridays of the month. There's one or two coming up where it's wierd and i know you travel so i went through and wrote them down-for the boys on a calendar too, so they know. Your possession weekends are weekends of Feb 14/28. March 14 is spring break and that's mine this year so in March you'll get March 28 and that's it. And then April 11 and 25 and May 9 and 23. For the Feb 14 weekend school is out Wed Feb 12 at 3. And then back in Tues Feb 18. So you'd get them for a long weekend-wed after school to Tues am back at school. If that doesn't work, lemme know-but i plan on following that plan. Have a good day. I'll prob have the boys call you tonight at like 5:30.

John Wantz on 1/28/2025 9:02AM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 1/28/2025 11:31AM):

Piano doesn't make sense. Grey and Duke are kept at Serene Hills Elementary while you seek to make money already a substantial amount of time each week. My attorneys estimate is that they are kept there 65 hours a week. On the nights you allows them to speak to me they are exhausted emotionally and physically, and hungry.

In addition to to being kept at school for an excessive duration due to your employment, I don't understand how you expect them to adhere to the basic requirements of learning an instrument? When will they practice? Who will teach them in your apartment? What piano will they practice on?

Duke progress report from school shows that his ability to learn is in decline.

Duke can not handle the long days he is already being thrust into.

I do not see adding another stress to their schedule making sense and I am not agreeing with adding this extra curricular activity to their lives and schedules.

They don't have the support, time, instruments available in home, or a parent in their current primary residence that can play that instrument to support their learning.

Sounds like we would be setting them up for failure.

Regarding the dates you lay out.

Please understand I don't trust you. Don't waste your time or mine attempting to represent truth. I'm over ever expecting anything out of you that isn't self serving.

John Wantz on 1/28/2025 9:08AM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 1/28/2025 11:32AM):

Regarding sports. Grey and Duke both constantly ask to play sports with Oliver and Duke. Duke has been asking to play football with Finn for months.

My same concerns for soccer for Grey stand as piano. Grey was far behind last season he played soccer. He lacks basic understanding of the game, lacks basic tactics that his peers grasp and deploy.

While you've decided that 4 days a month is adequate for two young boys to learn from their father, will you be spending any time personally learning the fundamentals of soccer and working with Grey on the basics aspects to ensure he can compete at a basic level of understanding? When will this happen?

I've contacted Vance (LTYA) and made sure he understands that you can not sign them up for sports without my approval.

I'm not interested in setting our children up for failure.

Unless we can have a better understanding of the balance and support our children are enjoying as it pertains to their involvement in extra curricular activities to ensure their stress is not increased, and they are able to perform at a basic level, I'm not signing off on anything.

I'll talk to Grey about it.

John Wantz on 1/28/2025 9:39AM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 1/28/2025 11:32AM):

I appreciate their desire to participate in extra curricular activities, and the court has provided both parents a hand in deciding that on behalf of our children.

Giving the kids everything they want all the time is not always what's best.

You're welcomed to tell Grey and Duke my thoughts as I will also be sharing my concerns with them.

He specifically mentioned your mother being concerned and you being concerned.

Can you please help me understand what conversations Grey has been subjected to that would create such concern. It's way too heavy for you to be talking this negatively about me if that's where his concerns come from. Can we please discuss connecting with Grey in counseling. We need to figure out how to balance his heart through this. He's delicate.

Game on Friday is white jersey. It did not come back with grey Monday-You need to drop it off tomorrow at the front desk at school.

Grey asked maia to go to the game Friday. She said she would go if you don't go, and grey would like that for this week.

John Wantz on 4/1/2025 8:37PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 4/2/2025 6:16AM):

I'm going to his game. Please do not push Grey a 7 year old child at a decision point between his father and sister. What are you thinking?

I'll be there with the jersey. Not appropriate to have conversations with the children where they are forced to pick like that. Disgusting.

Grey is constantly being torn in all of this. His heart is deeply damaged. The things he says about what decisions he has to process of the things he hears said about me are beyond inappropriate.

I'm this home we pray for you. I don't speak of you poorly to the children and they are not forced into choosing sides.

Take two steps back and think about all you've done is force the children to choose sides and you've used lies to do it.

John Wantz on 4/1/2025 8:45PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 4/2/2025 6:16AM):

Please tell Maia I'm not interested in supporting unhealthy relationships styles. She is an adult and can choose to alienate who ever she wants in her life. I'm not interested in allowing for alienation to be used as a standard of how our family should operate in front of Duke and Grey.

She's welcome at any point to address any issues she've ever had with me or anything she would like.

I'm not changing what health looks like for impressionable teenager who has been under your influence.

I'm very glad your attorney is taking us back to court.

Dear Jama,

Can you please confirm and provide clarity regarding your ongoing commitment to fund and coordinate third-party services for custody handoffs involving Grey and Duke this summer?

You have previously communicated—both to me and to the court—that having a neutral third party present during transitions is necessary. I agree with that position and, in alignment with your stated position and the children's best interests, I expect that you will continue to take responsibility for ensuring a third-party participant is present for all handoffs.

Please confirm that this is scheduled and in place for the upcoming summer handoffs, and kindly share any logistical information needed on my end.

Sincerely,
John Wantz

Jama —

Grey overheard you talking to Duke about an incident at school where other boys asked him to expose himself in the bathroom. You've said nothing to me. I've received no call, no message, no update. That's a serious problem.

If Duke was involved in any kind of exposure incident—whether as a target or participant—you had a duty to notify me immediately. That's not optional. You do not get to conceal sexually coercive behavior, psychological risk, or counselor involvement.

I want answers now—before I contact the school and escalate this through counsel:

- What exactly happened?
- How old were the boys involved?
- How long had this been going on?
- What did the school counselor say?
- Why was I kept in the dark?

You've concealed too much already. If I don't hear from you immediately, I'll assume you're obstructing again and I'll take action. This involves our son's safety and mental health. There's no universe where your silence will be acceptable in the courts eyes.

Hi Jama —

Duke let me know he'd like to invite Luke and Brady to his birthday at High Five today at noon, since the rain changed our original plans. He mentioned you may have their parents' contact info. Can you please share that or help extend the invite on his behalf?

I'm asking as part of our ongoing obligation to communicate and support shared parenting decisions. Coordinating around events like this should be a given—not a battle—and I'd appreciate your help making this a positive day for him.

Thanks

Jama,

You've stated that you're arranging and paying for third parties to supervise the custody handoffs, but I'm not receiving any communication from them in advance. That lack of coordination puts me in a difficult position and undermines the purpose of the arrangement.

Please clarify who is managing the upcoming handoffs and ensure they communicate with me directly and with enough notice. If no communication is provided, I will consider it a failure to follow through on your obligation under the decree, and I'll document it accordingly.

Let me know how you plan to resolve this.

Jama,

Trying to make sure I'm not crossing wires here—if I keep Duke overnight tonight, does that roll into tomorrow and we just count that as my birthday time? Or are you still planning to have someone show up tomorrow to do the handoff for the two-hour window?

Also, I'm still not hearing from whoever's supposed to be handling these exchanges. No updates, no heads-up, nothing. If you're paying someone, they should probably be doing something. Just flagging that.

Let me know what you're actually planning so I don't guess wrong.

John. I've hired a company and they will be there at 6pm tonight when your possession ends. They walk the kids over from you to me, as they've done in the past.

John Wantz on 5/26/2025 3:04PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 5/26/2025 3:36PM):

Jama,

Thanks for confirming a company will be involved—but once again, I haven't received any contact or coordination from them. If you're contracting a third party to manage legal handoffs, it's your responsibility to ensure they communicate clearly and in advance. That hasn't happened.

I'm documenting this as a failure to facilitate possession per the Final Decree. You can't just say a company is handling it and then leave me in the dark.

Please send me the name and contact info for whoever is showing up tonight. If I don't hear from them beforehand, you'll need to explain to the court how this qualifies as proper supervision.

Jama,

You've had more than enough time to respond to my message about the incident involving Duke at school. Your silence is not just irresponsible—it's dangerous.

This isn't optional. You had a legal and moral obligation to immediately inform me of any sexually coercive behavior, counselor involvement, or threats to our son's mental health. Instead, you chose to say nothing.

At this point, I'm proceeding as if you are actively obstructing. I will be raising this in court and documenting it as a failure to co-parent, a failure to disclose serious safety concerns, and a direct violation of the Final Divorce Decree.

You do not have the right to hide incidents that impact our son's psychological safety. This will be treated as a serious breach of duty.

Regarding Grey:

John Wantz on 5/26/2025 3:13PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 5/26/2025 3:36PM):

Jama,

I want to make you aware of a pair of high-end shoes I purchased for Grey this weekend—ones he specifically requested and feels very proud of. They have unique laces made of nylon and require some patience and dexterity to tie properly. I took time to work with him on it and we had a good conversation about how he feels things on his body and how that ties into his stress, focus, and comfort.

Grey has sensory sensitivities that seem amplified lately, and I believe they're connected to the emotional load he's carried over the past couple years. These shoes aren't just "new shoes" to him—they're symbolic. He's trying to take care of them, and how you treat them will speak volumes to him about whether the things he values are respected in your home. I want to be clear: minimizing them, ignoring them, or mocking them—even passively—will register as emotional dismissal to him. And that would be deeply damaging.

This isn't about a pair of shoes—it's about affirming a boy's developing sense of self and how he translates his internal experience into the world around him. Please take this seriously.

Let me know if you need any guidance on how to help him with the laces or support him in using them properly.

John Wantz on 5/26/2025 3:30PM texted (viewed by Jama Wantz on 5/26/2025 3:36PM):

Jama,

I'm aware of how you've historically reacted when the kids have things that require extra patience or effort on your part. Given how sensitive Grey is—especially right now—I want to be very clear about what I'm watching for.

If you respond to him with shortness, passive aggression, emotional withdrawal, contempt, or worse—like yelling, belittling, or physical discipline—because you're frustrated over something as simple as a pair of shoes, it will not go unnoticed. Grey internalizes everything. And if your stress shows up in how you treat him, it's not just damaging—it's abusive.

This isn't about shoelaces. It's about how a boy is treated when he needs help.

My level of scrutiny with the attorneys I've retained is absolute. The goal is singular: to protect our children's well-being without compromise. I will escalate anything that suggests emotional harm, neglect, or inappropriate discipline—no matter how small it may seem on the surface.

I want Grey to be safe, supported, and allowed to express himself without fear of punishment for being sensitive or needing help. You need to decide whether you can rise to that.

This will be hard for you. I get that. Just need to be sure we're starting to involve the courts on how you handle our children.

I'm reaching out in the hope that we can avoid the added stress and cost of next week's hearing. I'd like to propose that I pay $3,000 (borrowing the last $3,000 I can) immediately, and then catch up on the remaining child support balance over the next six months.

If you're open to this, would your attorney be willing to withdraw the current matter from the court docket?

I genuinely have no access to additional funds or loans and am doing everything I can to increase income. I'm asking for time, not avoidance. I truly hope we can resolve this without more court. I'm trying to get a better paying job, as it took me several months to find an employer last time with no issues with the arrest that occurred. I want to be able to support Maia, Ezra, Grey and Duke and being out in jail will destroy my ability to provide for them.

Thank you,

Jama,

What about we find a counselor. Just someone that can help us work through stuff. Courts are always available. I want to collaborate. Your call. Let me know by Monday. New attorney will be filing violations against you, otherwise. I'm sure you think you're squeaky clean and I'm stupid/wring and you will never face any consequences, but after another 6 months of court, the cost, stress, and what this is all doing to the kids, we will be right back to where we are now. I believe we should prefer working things out with a counselor.

We just need to find the best version of what this will look like for the kids. That's all I'm asking.

I've fought with my attorneys for two years who wanted to drag everything you've done into violations against you. While you blazed into what judges and attorneys have articulated to be one of the most high conflict divorces they've seen, I have not filed one motion against you that would force the court impose, fines, jail time, or any other repercussions.

If we can't find another way, we're just looking at more and more turmoil.

I have updated my pay with the AG. I'm attempting and have confidence that the AG will allow me to retroactively update the amount of what was owed.

Meaning - I'm doing all I can to ensure you receive the amount owed. Not this grossly inflated amount including past amounts. I don't say that to discourage you about what you're going to get, but to introduce the reality of my compensation. The amount you will see will be around $1600 a month moving forward.

I want to be in a place where I can support needs for any of our kids above and beyond that.

But the reality of you seeing the amount your attorneys snuck into the process is evaporating.

I'm sure you owe your attorneys a bunch of dough.

A counselor could help us work through how to get out of this cycle.

I hope you're able to find whatever you want in life and I'm sorry that I wasn't able to get you there.

I don't have a counselor in mind, I could find one. I'll find money for it also.

I'm not looking to work through forgiveness, or unpacking any emotional baggage for either of us. Perhaps some day, but please understand I'm looking to find a path where we can find healthy communication and problem solve to allow us personally to thrive, heal and allow our children to see something different than what has been created.

You have architected this path for our family, I'm trusting at some point finding peace might be of interest.

Thanks for reading.

Hey — I had Duke looked at, and the doctor confirmed the white spot on his back is consistent with skin trauma from sun exposure, likely post-inflammatory hypopigmentation due to a significant sunburn.

This isn't just a normal tan line — it's a sign his skin was damaged enough to affect pigment production, which shouldn't be happening at this level in a 6-year-old. I'd like us to go together for a deeper evaluation to make sure there's nothing else going on.

Also, I need to understand how he ended up with that much sun exposure in Texas heat without protection or supervision. This could have been much worse. Please let me know when you're available to go in with me. I'm free today or tomorrow to go to hospital to gather further understanding.

You can have the doctor you saw Wednesday before noon call me, or give me their info and I'll call them.

If you have any false allegations/worries of my parenting now or in the future, you can contact your lawyers and they can contact mine. They're updated on this and waiting for it. I'm not going to repeatedly defend myself to you or participate in exposing the kids to anything more than they've already witnessed. It's on you, and your lawyers can contact mine.

That's happening with Ezra. You won. You have successfully pulled a boy who had a really good relationship with his father. You waited until he was suicidal, then ripped his father away.

You treated his girlfriend like shit from what everyone including him has shared and now in order to show the world that you are such a victim and you made such a good decision to blow up your kids lives - that you have to keep destruction going to fight Ezra from even letting his dad watch a game.

If you don't think that all of this will back fire on you some day and you don't think Ezra or one of his girlfriends or wife will not see you for who you really are. You're wrong.

 Get to know your care options and costs.

How much you pay for care can depend on where you go. Here's a look at some options and the approximate price you'll pay. Your Tiered Benefit plan is designed so you may pay less when you see Tier 1 doctors and specialists. For life-threatening conditions, call 911 or go to an emergency room.

Look for Tier 1 savings.

Care Option:	What It's For:	What You Pay:
Office Visit	Care from the doctor who knows you best.	In-Network: $30 copay
Preventive Care Visit	Regular checkups, recommended screenings and immunizations.	$0 copay*
24/7 Virtual Visit	Easy online access to care, from wherever you are.	$54 copay or less
Specialist Office Visit	Care from a doctor who specializes in a particular area of medicine.	Tier 1: $30 copay In-Network: $60 copay
Urgent Care	Serious conditions that aren't an emergency.	$50 copay
Emergency Room	Life- or limb-threatening emergencies.	$500 copay

Did you know?

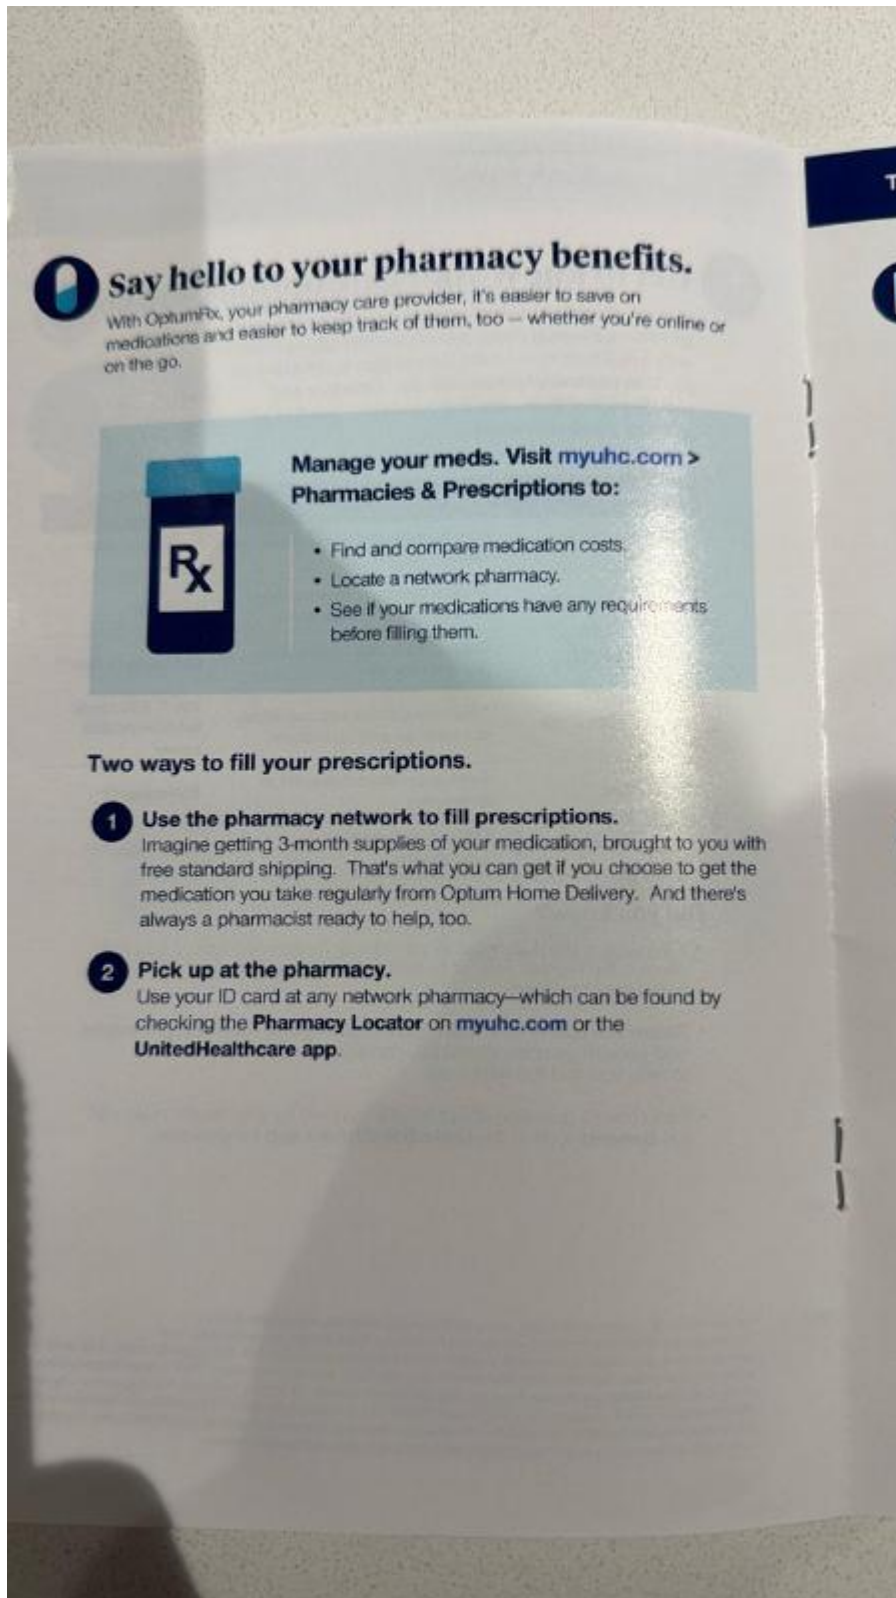

- If you use a Tier 1 in-network provider or designated facility, you may receive the highest level of benefit typically at a lower cost than regular in-network providers.
- Before you spend time waiting in the emergency room (ER), or maybe end up with an unexpected bill, consider the chart above to help you find the right care.
- If you have a question about what's covered by your health plan, visit the Benefits icon in the UnitedHealthcare app for answers.

*Preventive Care is covered by most plans at no additional cost when you see network doctors.
The Designated Virtual Visit Provider's reduced rate for a Virtual Visit is subject to change at any time.
Care received in an emergency room and/or urgent care is frequently more expensive, and copays for these visits can be much higher and coinsurance and deductible requirements may also apply. Average costs source: 2022 average allowed amounts charged by UnitedHealthcare Network Providers and not tied to a specific condition or treatment. Actual payments may vary depending upon benefit coverage. The information and estimates provided are for general information and illustrative purposes only and are not intended to be nor should be construed as medical advice or a substitute for your doctor's care. You should consult with an appropriate health care professional to determine what may be right for you.
